Leonard Krigbaum of Royalton died Saturday of pneumonia at Camp Devens, and his remains came yesterday, accompanied by a military escort.

A meeting of 35 enthusiastic women from different parts of Windsor county, several of them town chairmen, met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Guy Wilson, chairman of the county woman's committee on the fourth Liberty loan. There were addresses by Mrs. E. C. Smith of St. Albans, state chairman, and Cashier E. A. Davis. The local committee is made up of Mrs. Charles Batchelder, chairman, Mrs. Ina Gonyea, Mrs. Norman S. Case and Mrs. J. Wesley Miller. The committee will canvass vigorously in every part of the town, both men and women, and will be credited with sales to women. The full quota for the town is $75,000.

D. H. Dyke and W. N. Huntley of Claremont, N. H., were at the Bascom house yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crozier and Miss Martha Crozier of Lebanon, N. H., were guests recently at B. G. Bundy's.

A Laing of Burlington, representing the Anti-Saloon league, spoke Sunday morning at the Congregational church.

Miss Geneva Bragdon has received a card announcing the arrival overseas of her brother, Corp. Edward Bragdon of the 56th Infantry (Maine regiment).

Burns L. Osgood, rural mail carrier on route 4, has sent in his resignation to take effect Oct. 1, being unable to stand the ride because of kidney trouble. For about 14 years Mr. Osgood has carried mail, 11 years from Gayville and three from Bethel. He has been an active member of the Vermont Rural Carriers' association and has been its president. He was three times elected to represent Vermont in the national convention. He was for three years a member of the executive committee of the national association, visiting 38 states. When the parcel post was being agitated Mr. Osgood, with five others, was invited to appear before the parcel post committee in Washington, D. C., to present the views of the rural carriers. Mr. Osgood plans to take up some outdoor work less prejudicial to his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holland went yesterday to Camp Devens to see their son, James, a soldier of the national army, who was reported seriously ill with influenza.

Miss Mae I. Savage is ill, following an attack of indigestion. Seventeen cases of influenza had been reported to Health Officer O. V. Greene last evening.

The funeral of Private Philip D. Noble will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of his parents. A military escort accompanied the remains, which arrived yesterday.

A Lee Cadby was in Barnard this afternoon to attend the funeral of the late Elmer Abbott, aged about 90 years, who died last Saturday. He is survived by two sons and a daughter. The funeral was in the Universalist church.

Barre people, upon learning of the death of Postmaster William F. Murray of Boston, recall the occasion several years ago when he spoke at a largely attended Democratic rally in the opera house. On the same evening it chanced that the Spanish-American war veterans of Washington county were holding a fall reunion in Barre and after the rally Mr. Murray kindly consented to address the boys of '98. He was one of the youngest veterans of the war and at the time of his enlistment in a Massachusetts volunteer regiment he bore the reputation of being the only schoolboy in greater Boston to be accepted for military service.

BARRE DAILY TIMES

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1918.

The Weather

Generally cloudy to-night and Wednesday, probably local rains; moderate shifting winds.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Visit Abbott's millinery department. Alfred E. Watson of Hartford transacted business in Barre yesterday and today.

Rev. Francis L. Laird of West Barnet called on friends in the city yesterday and to-day.

Adjourned meeting of tool sharpeners' branch, No. 2, in polishers' hall Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

E. R. Fletcher, a well known Woodbury quarrier, was a Barre business visitor yesterday and to-day.

Viola Dana in "Opportunity," a Metro feature, and a Drew comedy, "Their First," Bijou to-day—adv.

Miss Elma Bianchi, daughter of Peter Bianchi of First street, was operated on at the City hospital last evening.

Miss Doris Jones, who finished work at the Woolworth store Saturday night, is taking a commercial course at Goddard seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Melcher of Park street, who have been absent for some weeks while visiting relatives in Maine, are expected home to-morrow.

Atty. Raymond J. Trainor of White River Junction, who is secretary of the Vermont Local Option league, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Take Notice: On account of the prevailing epidemic, the parish supper, which was to have been held in the Congregational church Wednesday evening, is postponed.

M. W. Cook, who was arrested yesterday on an intoxication charge, appeared before Magistrate H. W. Scott in municipal court and paid a fine of $5 and costs, after acknowledging a first offense.

H. A. Holt, who is laid up with the prevailing influenza, is reported a little better to-day. Both of Mr. Holt's barriers are laid up with the disease. Just as soon as he or they are able to resume work again, his shop will be re-opened.

To-night in the court room at city hall Barre Democrats will assemble in caucus to elect a city committee, and to consider plans for the November election. The meeting is called by the chairman of the present city committee and it will be held at 8 o'clock.

Theodore Fischer, pastor of the Universalist church. After a short visit in the city they expect to return to New Haven, where they Elmer Abbott, aged about 90 years, who died last Saturday. He is survived by two sons and a daughter. The funeral was in the Universalist church.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Herbert Wilson of South Main street left the city this forenoon for White River Junction, where he has accepted a position with the American Express company.

Take Notice: On account of the prevailing epidemic, the parish supper which was to have been held in the Congregational church Wednesday evening, is postponed.

Miss Mary Smollett of Wellington street, who has been detained at home by the grip for a week, resumed her duties in the office of the Granite Manufacturers' association yesterday.

The ladies' union of the Universalist church will hold a special meeting in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. As there is business of importance to be considered, it is hoped every member who possibly can will attend.

F. A. Slayton of South Main street returned this noon to Northfield, where his string of race horses is stationed at the Dog River Valley fair grounds.

W. S. Page of Orange street expects to be present on the Northfield turf, although the wet weather may result in the postponement of the race meet to be held in connection with the fair. Mr. Slayton spent the day yesterday at the Northfield course and in talking over the telephone to-day with the fair managers, he learned that none of the races will be postponed unless the heavy going on the track makes it absolutely imperative.

A number of horsemen have been attracted to this year's fair at Northfield by the fine purses offered.

Schools, manufacturing plants and business establishments are feeling keenly the effects of the influenza epidemic in Barre, and as the number of cases seems to be increasing, its ultimate effect may not be forecasted. Four members of the faculty at Spaulding high school were ill to-day, and in
